ROBERT N. PHAIR

ANOTHER GOOD CITIZEN ADDED TO LIST OF SPANISH INFLUENZA VICTIMS HERE

Another good citizen, husband and father has been added to the toll which Spanish influenza is exacting of this community. This morning (Saturday) at 5:30 o'clock, Robert Nelson Phair, who was taken sick just a week ago, died of pneumonia, which followed influenza. He passed away at his home, 407 West Harvard street and leaves a widow, a daughter Julia, three years of age, and an infant son born Thursday of the present week. Brantford, near Toronto, Canada, was the place where he first saw the light of day. In 1902 he came to the United States going first to Colorado, then to Utah, where he spent three years in Salt Lake City. Since that time he has lived in Southern California and for about four years has resided in Glendale. He had charge of the soda fountain in Roberts & Echo's drug store, and was a valued and efficient employe. Funeral services, which will be in charge of Scovens, Letton & Frey will be private but the time has not been set at this writing.

DEATH OF JOHN THOMAS WRIGHT

Mesdames Frank Muhleman, Alfred J. Muhleman and Miss Clara Wright of this city have been bereaved in the death of their father, John Thomas Wright of Los Angeles who passed away at the Cunningham hospital in that city Friday morning, November 8, 1918. He had been in ill health for some time and was taken to the hospital about two weeks ago in the hope the special treatment he would receive there would prolong his life. He was the father of eight children, all of whom are living. He was born in Mt. Vernon, Ohio, seventy-two years ago and fought in the civil war. At the time peace was declared he was a prisoner in Mississippi. About twenty-five years ago he came to Los Angeles and built a home at 936 West 33rd St. where he continued to live while carrying on an excellent business as contractor and builder from which he retired about two years ago. He was a man of sweet nature, sterling character and fine business ability. A large number of friends and associates by whom he was greatly respected will share the sorrow of his widow and family. Funeral services which will be private, will be held Monday in Los Angeles and interment will be in Forest Lawn Memorial-Park.

SOLDIER AND SAILOR

Elmer Francis, son of Mrs. George Woolley and nephew of Mrs. Wesley Bullis is at home on a furlough after four years' service in the navy. He was born and brought up in the Tropico district and has many friends and pleasant associations here. His friends say he looks fine in his sailor togs and they are exceedingly proud of him. He has re-enlisted.

The Bullis family is represented in the army by James Allen Bullis of the C. A. C. now in France. The latest letter received from him conveyed the information that his regiment had been moved up to the front (supposedly in the sector in front of Metz, though the letter did not state) and that the boys expected to be ordered over the top any hour. He gives great praise to the Y. M. C. A. for its work for the boys and says he keeps alongside of the troops under all circumstances, that even in the place where they are temporarily encamped in a rural district they had hardly placed their tents until the Y. M. C. A. hut was opened and organized to dispense comfort to the soldiers. Allen writes that he and Ellsworth Head are together and will go into battle at the same time.

Tax Collector Stauffacher says he is kept constantly busy these days handing out receipts for taxes paid and answering inquiries from property owners in regard to their bills.

Remember, to get on the Honor Roll you must make your subscription today, Sunday or Monday.

THE FREAKS OF LIFE

SERGEANT BENSON SURVIVES BATTLE OF ST. MIHEL AND IS WOUNDED IN ACCIDENT

The Evening News is indebted to Mrs. D. C. Ely of 710 Orange Grove avenue, this city, who has five grandsons in service, for the following descriptive letter from one of them, Sergeant R. A. Benson of Battery B, 65th Artillery, C. A. C., who is now recuperating in a Red Cross hospital in France.

October 5, 1918.

Dearest Grandma:

Excuse me for not writing sooner for I thought I had better not tell you that I was in the hospital. I thought I would be out by now, but I miscalculated a trifle.

You need not worry for by the time you receive this I will be in as good condition as I ever was and perhaps better, for the little rest I am having.

While trying to prevent an accident with one of our guns, my foot accidentally got where it should not have been and the result was a few broken bones and slight bruises of my right foot, which will be O. K. in a short time.

It was a miracle that I did not lose my entire foot, so I consider myself one of the luckiest fellows in the world. Don't you?

Just think! I went through one of the greatest battles ever fought over here and came out without a scratch, then, through my own carelessness, got "bunged" up. I am really ashamed of myself for getting hurt when there is so much for me to do, but perhaps everything is for the best.

While going from the field hospital to the evacuation hospital we passed over a stretch of road that was being bombed by aeroplanes. Several fragments of shell struck the ambulance and one piece wounded the driver, but my good luck was still with me and I escaped without a scratch.

I am in the fourth hospital since I got hurt. It is in the Southern part of France far away from the war zone. They have certainly treated me fine everywhere. The Red Cross nurses are doing a wonderful work in this war. I believe they work harder than any one else and I know they do their work more willingly for they always have a smile and a few cheerful words for everybody. They work long hours, too. Their day's work is finished when there is no more to do, but they seem just as fresh and cheerful after working ten or twelve hours as they were at the beginning of the day.

I have lost all of my personal property including my book of addresses, so I shall have to mail this to your old address.

Give my regards to the kiddies and Aunt E. and all the rest of the folks.

I don't know how soon I will get my mail. I haven't had any since before the battle of St. Mihiel salient, for they would not bring our mail up to us while we were fighting. It was several days after leaving that sector that I had my accident.

I will close now and write again in a few days.

Now DON'T worry, for I will be O. K. by the time you receive this. Love to all and tell them to write.

Lovingly,

RALPH.

Mrs. Ely has two other grandsons in France, one in Siberia and one in a Mississippi camp. All were volunteers. She admits that she is very proud, but says she is always "very anxious."

ROBERT ABARTA WOUNDED

Robert V. Abarta, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Abarta was badly wounded with shrapnel, September 26 when he went over the top with the 364th infantry. He has been in three hospitals and is now at the base hospital in Southern France where he is getting along nicely. His friends may address him Base Hospital No. 3, A. P. O. 705, Via New York.

MYRON BETZ VERY ILL

Myron Betz, whose home is in this city, but who has been in Sacramento for the past four years, when supposedly convalescent from pneumonia following influenza was brought here to recuperate and during the journey suffered a relapse. On reaching Glendale Friday night he was hurried to the Glendale Sanitarium, where he now is in a very critical condition, suffering from double pneumonia. He is a brother of H. E. Betz of this city, and has a large circle of friends here.

WORK OF BOARD

RESULTS OF PHYSICAL EXAMINATIONS HAVE BEEN HIGHLY SATISFACTORY

Members of the Exemption Board feel very grateful to Judge Lowe and officials of the Police department for courtesies shown the Board during the strenuous work of preparing registrants for the draft. During the past week in which many physical examinations have taken place, the office of the Police department in the city hall has been turned over to the lady clerks of the Board while the examinations were going on, and Judge Lowe, with equal courtesy has permitted the use of his court room by members of the Legal Advisory Board. The last of the regular examinations of the 19 to 35 year old registrants in Class A whose industrial claims for exemption were not before the district board, took place Friday.

The results of physical examinations of registrants have been highly satisfactory to the Board, as a large number of men fit for service have been found. The Board has notified the Adjutant General that it will not hold any more examinations until the "flu" epidemic is on the wane, because of the number of physicians who have enlisted and the scarcity of doctors for private practice, the Board concluding that it will be well to allow them to attend to their patients and not compel them to devote so much time to the Board's work just now.

Chairman Lanterman says a great deal of trouble has been caused the Board's clerks who are called upon to spend much valuable time answering the telephone calls of people wishing to know "where their questionnaires are." Mr. Lanterman declares that if they will pay strict attention to the list of order numbers as published in the Evening News, they will know when to expect their questionnaires as 200 are mailed daily. The last lot of questionnaires is expected to be out about Tuesday of next week.

Miss Ida Waite, who has had charge of the mailing of the questionnaires states that she will have them out by Tuesday of next week.

The Board would like to have the assistance of two or three good typists with type-writers to prepare final lists of order numbers, serial numbers, names and addresses of all registrants, to be forwarded to Washington. The work requires great accuracy and neatness.

THE SALVATION ARMY

(By Mrs. Charles H. Toll)

I have left the claims of the Salvation Army as a beneficiary in the United War Work Campaign purposely to the last, for more than one reason. I think the Salvation Army must impress the vast majority of persons as it impresses me. All whom I meet seem to coincide with me in the thought that there never was a more devoted band of workers than these. There seems never to be in their work a thought of remuneration or praise—all they do seems to be done with love for humanity and God ruling heart and hand. Death itself seems to have no terrors for these; duty to God and man is the all-impelling motive which actuates them.

There has been but little publicity given to what the Salvation Army is doing for the boys at home and "over there," but somehow it has come to the ears of us away off on the western coast of another continent how they have ministered to the physically strong, to the wounded and the dying and have not hesitated to lay down their lives, if need be, for their brothers.

The news that first came to us was that of the Salvation Army lasses, "the little sweethearts of the Army," as they are lovingly called, have advanced to the first-line trenches, established camouflaged kitchens and have sat up all night, wearing steel helmets and gas masks, baking doughnuts and pies that they might, when the cold dawn should break, have them ready, along with steaming coffee, for the boys who seek the hut, certain that they would not be disappointed in the cheer in store for them. These comforts are freely dispensed; and it is small wonder that the news of them has come West, for they have served the boys of every creed that have come to their huts, and none have gone away hungry.

Who has heard of the Salvation Army mothers, who follow up the lines on the front and with tiny sewing machine set up in places where less welcome and more dangerous visitors than soldier boys come, have mended torn clothing and put the boys into a self-respecting condition?

Some of our Southern California sunshine, too, has been carried to the front through the instrumentality of the Salvation Army. When the army has been hurried to an advanced position, making forced marches with little opportunity for more than a brief halt, and when "bully beef" and chocolate was the best obtainable fare and no cooling water was at hand, along have come Salvation Army trucks carrying capacity loads of golden oranges, which have been tossed out to all the boys and have slaked the thirst of the long, hard march.

Dear to the heart of the Englishman is his cup of tea. In places where it was impossible to produce doughnuts and pies for the delectation of the boys, impromptu cooking arrangements have been made, and as many as 300,000 boys have been served with piping hot tea daily by the Salvation Army. Strange, is it not, that a man's heart and stomach are so closely connected; but I doubt not that many many an attack of the boche has been successfully resisted because of the sustaining and cheering influence of the cup of hot tea handed out by the Salvation Army lasses.

The Salvation Army maintains ambulance service for 77 of the hospitals at the Western front. This means that they have furnished and equipped these means of caring for our wounded from their own funds. Moreover, their men have labored in large numbers as stretcher-bearers, and they have been indefatigable in making trips out into No Man's Land while it was under a rain of fire. They are peculiarly qualified for this work, as their trust in God is unbounded, and they have learned to be fearless even under the most trying circumstances. Then, too, each Salvation Army worker has been thoroughly trained in first aid, so many lives have been saved by the necessary staunching of blood before the trip to the first dressing station could be made.

Some of the Salvation Army huts have become historical because of the fact that they have been kept open 24 hours a day for three months at a stretch while liquid fire, shot and shell and shrapnel have rained all about them. Many a brave Salvation Army worker, it is true, has laid down his life uncomplainingly; but another has come at once to take his place, so that our boys have not suffered the loss of what comforts the Salvation Army had been supplying.

While the Salvation Army has looked after the physical needs of our boys most untiringly, the spiritual man has not been neglected, as you well know. Many a wayward boy has been brought to recognize his responsibility to his Maker through the efforts of the Salvation Army. To persons were asked to quote the committee to that effect.

"Entirely too much publicity has been given to supposed symptoms of the so-called Spanish influenza," was Mr. Byers' further comment, "and I would recommend that if anything be printed in regard to the disease it be confined to simple preventive measures—something constructive, rather than destructive."

"Fear is the first thing to be overcome, the first step in conquering this epidemic," said Dr. Witte. "I am not a Christian Scientist, but I believe an application of their principles will materially aid in preserving the health of this community. They did not originate with the Scientists, but are to be found by anyone who will take the trouble to read his Bible."

"In my work in infected communities, I have always found Scientists the first to respond to the slightest suggestion of unsanitary conditions, and the first to comply with fundamental health measures."—Christian Science Monitor.

GLENDALE CHURCH FEDERATION

The Glendale Church Federation met last Wednesday morning at the Lutheran Church and held its first fall meeting. Rev. O. P. Rider of the South Glendale Presbyterian Church, was elected President and Rev. R. W. Mottern, of the Lutheran Church, elected Secretary, for the ensuing year.

The time and place of the Thanksgiving services were discussed and it was decided to hold the same in the First Methodist church at 10:30 o'clock. Rev. W. E. Edmonds was appointed to preach the sermon or arrange with the new Baptist minister if he is located by that time.

A special committee, consisting of Revs. Rider, Scott and Cole, was appointed to plan for a series of free lectures to be given during the winter in the High School, on the Fundamentals of Religion.

The Federation regretted very much under existence of the epidemic, this coming Sunday our various churches will still be closed to services. They urge patience and carefulness on the part of the people so as to assist the health authorities in combating the plague.

The Federation would call attention of the people to their religious duties and the necessity of continuing the "church in the house" for a few days longer. Keep in close touch with God His Son. Hold a season of reading the Holy Word, prayer and song, in your home this coming Sunday at or near the 11 o'clock hour for regular services. Keep in touch with the Sunday school lessons and Young Peoples' topics as we go along, so as to connect the entire work.

Special prayer was held for our entire community.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The pastor suggests the following meditation for the Sabbath day. Text, "Ye Hypocrites," Matt. 15:7. Is there an organization in all the world in which there are no hypocrites? Is there a single line of business in which there are no hypocrites? Is there a political party in which there are no hypocrites? Those who are always talking about the hypocrites here and there are themselves the chief of hypocrites. Some worldly wise one comes forth like some great Goliath and with great swelling words declares that the church is full of hypocrites. Such a statement is a lie, for there is no church concerning which such a statement is true. What if there are hypocrites in the church? What has that to do with you? Are you one?

The truth has always been counterfeited, the genuine always imitated. No one has ever yet attempted to counterfeit a bad thing, if he knew what he was doing.

Jesus had a Judas among his followers, but he had eleven men true and faithful. To which company do you belong?

Hypocrisy is always sure of detection. Men may think they are deceiving those about them, but they are sadly mistaken.

Hypocrisy always courts defeat. Slowly, and yet surely the man who strikes a false note and leads a questionable life will reap his harvest.

You say you are stumbling over hypocrites. Then you pay a tribute to your lack of good common sense, for what sort of a man is he who stumbles over hindrances in the way that he can easily see?

Who art thou that judgest another? Many a man hurls criticism at another in order to divert attention from his own miserable sinful self. Let him that is without sin first cast a stone.

There will be no hypocrites in Heaven. Hell will be full of them. What's your destination? Who will be your future companions?

Remember two or three things: You cannot see a man's heart, nor always detect his true spirit, nor see the tears that roll down his cheeks when he is conscious of failure.

Better throw the mantle of charity over the men whom we know to be untrue. Leave them with God. He is more just than we.

Try to help the weaker brother. There could be no greater victory than to turn some man who is untrue into the way that leads to life eternal. This was the program of Jesus Christ. FOLLOW HIM.

SERMONETTE—"THE WORLD'S GREATEST CONQUERORS"

Rev. R. W. Mottern

Text 1 John 5:5, "Who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God."

Here we have a timely text. The whole world has been keyed up to it for the last four years in the aims of the Central powers in Europe. But by the grace of God, the reign of the sword and material gains are turning back whence they originated in the depraved soul.

We are wont to turn to the soldier, the sailor, and all sorts of carnal success for our examples of triumph and victory. Yet none can mount to the top without destroying lives and property, and go backward in civilization. A greater battle is on constantly, the real battle of Armageddon with sin and wrong, within and without. For we "wrestled not with flesh and blood, but with the unclean foe."

Our text declares it is the "world" that is the enemy of all good; enemy of God and things righteous. It is not persons but "things" not men but "principles." It is the prince of this world who leads the hosts of sin, and both him and all wrong we are called upon to fight. The Master says, by way of encouragement, "Be of good cheer, I have overcome the world." And the poet says, "Through faith we shall conquer, though often cast down." Here is the chance to become a greater conqueror than a Napoleon, Grant or Foch. In morals and religion foes are more subtle and resourceful. "The fight is on, O soldier of Christ, to conquer in His name."

Now we find that the "world" has a "law of its own," the law of "public opinion," founded on what is "popular," not what is "right." Policy has so much to do in following the behests of this law.

The "world" we find has "a religion of its own." It is the "big church" to which most people belong.

It is a church system of self-righteousness, self-saviors, self-sufficiency. It declares there is no need of God or Christ. No need of redemption. No need of the Bible or the church. Be good. Treat your fellowman right. Be good citizens. Obey the laws.

Follow your own conscience. Live an upright life, then you have no fear of the future. But we hear thunders from Sinai saying, "For all these things God will bring you into judgment."

The "world" has also "a limit set" to all its doings. That limit is entire freedom and liberty to do just as it pleases in everything good or bad.

Appetite, excess, passion, pleasure, must all be allowed "liberty." That's just what the Central Powers of Europe were doing for four years, and we see what a "hell" on earth they made.

The "world" has "a language all its own." Slang, trashy words, low bawdy songs of the dancehall, sports of the street, carry with them the vilest suggestions and most unclean foulness on earth.

The "world" also has "a spirit of its own." It is the spirit of self-importance, self-love. That spirit will "write your faults upon the sand." It will bury you in a fine casket and cover your grave with flowers. It will attempt to eliminate the judgments of God. He is too good to punish.

He is all merciful and will find a nook or corner in which to tuck you away in seas of bliss, just you have your good time here regardless of the right of God or others.

How different well-grounded and true Christianity! He that "believes that Jesus is the Son of God," how different his views of the present and the future! How different his life, his song, his hope, his faith! He is the greatest conqueror on this side of heaven. On the Golden Shore he will sit down to the victor's banquet forevermore.

ELECTION BOARD NO. 10

The following account of the work of the Election Board of Precinct No. 10, contributed by Mrs. Sidney Dell, is published in the expectation that it will be of interest to many of our readers:

"Members of the Election Board of Glendale Precinct No. 10 do not know whether they have the right to claim first place in the number of hours required by them to close the work of the election, but they do know that when the Election Board inspector, Mrs. George W. Henderson handed the finished work over to the deputy clerk of County Registrar Lyons, in the Los Angeles County Court House, at 3 p. m. Wednesday, the clerk had absolutely no criticism to make."

"They do know that a total of 173 votes was cast; they do know that at 7:45 a. m. Wednesday they had finished their work and were on their way home."

"They do know that the work was done under the strenuous conditions of very cold and long night hours and they do know that the Board was composed entirely of women of the average health."

"The movement of the work from the beginning hour, 6 a. m. Tuesday, until the finishing hour, 7:45 a. m. Wednesday, was so smooth, thanks to the very able and just Board Instructor, Mrs. George W. Henderson, that not one irritable moment was spent by a single member, and today (Friday) the report from these six women is: 'I am well and felt no sickness. I was very tired, of course, but hope we know each other better.'

"We, the members of the Election Board in Precinct No. 10 challenge the election boards (in Glendale at least) for a better report."

Personals

Miss Marcella Miller is helping out at Spahr's Drug Store during the absence of Miss Hodgson, who is ill or the "flu."

Traffic Cop Garwood has succumbed to influenza and is quite sick at his home on Ivy street. His friends are not alarmed as no complications have been reported.

W. E. Hewitt, of the Glendale Laundry, has been quite ill at his home, 1028 N. Louise, but it is with great pleasure the announcement is made that he is recovering.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Clarke, of 351 Oak street entertained with a dinner party recently. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller and son, Milton of Hampton Court, Hollywood.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Muhleman, of 203 E. Chestnut street, this city, a nine-pound son at 7:35 o'clock, this (Saturday) morning, November 9, 1918. It is the expectation that he will be named Frank L. Muhleman, Jr., and his father is confident he will be a good Democrat.

The announcement that Friday would be Pumpkin Pie Day at Yager's Confectionery and Lunch Room, evidently interested Glendaleans who responded to the invitation in such numbers that Mr. Yager was unable to fill all his orders for pie. Those who were served declared it was A-No. 1 pie, and expressed the hope they would have another chance.

Dr. Lura Nelson of Hollywood, who has quite an acquaintance in this city, has just received word that her husband, who is also a physician and who enlisted and went to France in the medical service, has been killed. No particulars have reached her. She is a cousin of Henry Lawrence, former proprietor of the Burbank Review.

Harry Duffield of Lomita avenue has recently heard from his grandson, Harry C. Duffield, who has been in France only a short time, but who has been moved up to the front and writes he "has had a taste of some of the sport." He enlisted in the Marines and will not be 18 until the 20th of the month. His grandfather is a proud man.

Mrs. Wesley Bullis has suffered a bereavement in the loss of two friends, Mrs. Minnie Morton of Compton, and Miss Kate Morton of the same city of pneumonia resulting from influenza. They died within ten days of each other and were nursed by a sister-in-law, Mrs. Lydia Marden. Mrs. Bullis' sister-in-law, whose little daughter has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bullis the past week. Miss Morton who was 42 years of age had devoted her life to her parents who are over 80 years of age and are now left alone.

Jessie Cooksey, one of our leading photographers, who has been away for several weeks on a vacation and also to take him to the mud baths at one of the Southern California resorts has recently returned much improved in health, and full of optimism regarding future business conditions generally for our community. She is making extensive preparations for the holiday trade in portraits, and in addition to her regular line of photo portrait work, has added facilities for making oil and water color portraits. As the sending of mail to the boys at the front is very much restricted Mrs. Cooksey suggests in her advertisement in our paper, the sending of portraits, which will surely be much appreciated.

TOURING FRANCE

Ross Goodsell, nephew of Mrs. F. A. Field of Kenwood street, who is with the Ballon Division in France, has written of an outing he has recently enjoyed touring portions of France with a party of officers. One of the luxuries of the trip was the chance to sleep in a real bed to which he said he had been a stranger since last December. His brother is still at Vladivostok in the Y. M. C. A. service, and writes hopefully of conditions in Russia, which he thinks will be adjusted and come all right.

AN EVENING IN THE FLOWERS HOME

C. D. Lusby, W. E. Evans, J. C. Sherer and A. T. Cowan of this city were present Friday evening at an informal jubilee gathering held at the home of Montvale Flowers in Monrovia, late republican candidate for congress. There were present at this meeting people from Whittier, at this meeting people from Whittier, Pomona, Long Beach, Glendale, Pasadena, South Pasadena and other points in the Ninth Congressional District.

All speeches made had a true ring of patriotism and bore expression of loyalty to all that is for real Americanism. A very appetizing lunch was served by Mrs. Flowers and her daughter. Miss Keller, sister of Mrs. Flowers, gave several piano solos, and her sister sang two war songs. Mr. Flowers leaves today for the East in response to a telegram.

LA CRESCENTA

The knitting squad of the Red Cross turned in 116 knitted garments to headquarters. Last week, owing to typographical error, this was printed as 31.

Dr. Pomeroy of the board of health has announced schools to reopen on Monday next, subject to his approval of local conditions.

Miss Viola Andersen has been quite ill with influenza, but is recovering.

The operating force of the Glendale & Montrose Railway has been reduced to two. All the others are ill or convalescing.

Mr. A. H. Schultz, whose eldest son, August E. Schultz, is lying wounded in a base hospital somewhere in France, writes: "Just let me tell you about the Red Cross. They do more for a fellow in a minute than all the other organizations do in a week." How is that for a tribute to the brave and devoted men and women who are giving their time, money and lives if necessary, to help our boys?

Mrs. H. T. Craige, who has been occupying Mrs. Nettleton's cottage, has left for a trip up north.

Your Thrift Stamp Pledge. Turn your quarters into stamps; help yourself and your government with your little bit and two-bits. The war is nearly over, perhaps all over, but there is still a lot to do. Do your part here by buying stamps that they can do their part "over there."

The Red Cross classes will meet as usual Tuesdays and Thursdays from 10 to 5. Plenty of work in sight. Don't fail us now, as there is still a need of dressings and garments, and will be for some time to come.

Ray Cookson is in a base hospital in France with a broken leg and injured back, due to a bomb explosion very close to him. He writes a long letter about thrilling experiences in laying telephone and telegraph wires in the midst of battle. The division to which he is attached has seen active service, and his company C, of 316 Signal Corps, is the same as Sergeant Schultz's.

Mrs. E. N. Nettleton, who has been home with a severe attack of lumbago and sciatic rheumatism, is up and able to be about again.

There were 127 votes polled at the election on Tuesday. This is a splendid showing in the face of so many of our men away and a few ill.

Miss Ethel Lewenstein is down with a severe cold, but hopes to return to school Monday.

Do your Christmas shopping early. Mail packages for the navy to reach the base by November 15, for the army, at your local Red Cross before November 20, and only with the official label. All others to friends and relatives November 30. These are governmental regulations.

LA CANADA

John Welty, well known in La Canada and La Crescenta where he has a big acquaintance, has been called to service and is leaving next Saturday.

La Canada housewives are here advised that no more permits for canning sugar will be issued after November 9th, by order of the Food Administration, which has extended the period in California one month later in the eastern states. The regular allowance per capita is 2 lbs. per month.

Postmaster E. G. Metcalf succumbed to the "flu" and has been taken to a hospital. There are a good many light cases, especially among the Mexican population, but none is seriously ill.

The latest report in regard to schools was that they would open Monday next, but it has been rumored there may be a change in the plan. No moving picture shows are allowed.

TUJUNGA

Charles W. Dean came home from Brawley on Friday to recuperate from a severe attack of the "flu." He reports a great deal of the epidemic there, but every precaution taken to prevent its spread.

The condition of Mrs. Baily is much improved; she has been in the most serious condition. Mr. Baily is also much better.

W. H. Wijeman and son, Don, have both had a mild attack, but are better.

Mr. and Mrs. Siefkin, of Wichita, Kan., have rented the Jack Catt house.

Miss Samuels, teacher in the school, and her mother have rented Miss Zoe Gilbert's new house for the winter.

Mrs. Dougherty and sister of Los Angeles, are occupying the W. C. Miles house on Stephens way, and may remain for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Lewis, who sold their home last week, have rented the McClellan place.

Mrs. Barrett, who has been here for the past three months, was taken to the Thornycroft Sanitarium, on Monday, as her condition warranted constant attention.

W. C. Miles, from Glendale, was a caller on Tuesday.

Mrs. Haigh has returned from San Diego, where she was called last week on the severe illness of Mr. Haigh, who passed away the same week.

Word was received by Dr. White from Honolulu that her son was ill there with pleuro-pneumonia. The doctor and her daughter Rebecca are planning for a trip there as soon as transportation and passports are secured.

LIVING TOO STRENUOUSLY

Very much has been said in print of late years as to great increase in average duration of life, compared with earlier times.

But the fact is little known and seldom mentioned that the former low average was due chiefly to great mortality among infants.

Babies in these days have a much better prospect of life than they formerly did, which is because of great progress made in medicine and hygiene, but it is declared that men and women in general do not live as long as formerly.

Dr. Edwin F. Bowers says in this regard that expectation of life at 45 is now less than it was 25 or 50 years ago; that diseases of the heart, kidneys and blood vessels have "increased by an alarming degree," especially among mental workers and persons engaged in sedentary occupations.

The truth is that for adults in these days, living in towns and cities life is relatively fast and full of stress and excitement of various kinds. Late hours and too much eating and pleasure-seeking prevail, while in business many men wear themselves out early in endeavor to "hold their own" or in haste to be rich.

There should be more sleep, simpler food, less haste, worry and extravagance.—Sacramento Bee.

The Girl and the Bishop

HE was one of the best known American bishops, preaching straight-out, man-fashion sermons to the boys in France. Everywhere they liked what he said and the way he said it.

On a certain night last summer, he was scheduled to speak in the big hut in one of the largest centers. His subject was announced. The hour was set for eight o'clock. Everything was ready.

Then came the telegram. It came in the middle of the afternoon. It threw the head Secretary into a frenzy. It was from Paris.

It said that the most popular American actress in France would arrive to give her performance that evening!

The girl and the bishop at once!

A hurried consultation was held and then it was explained to the bishop how matters stood.

"What time does she arrive?" asked the bishop.

"A little after eight o'clock," said some one.

"Then it's perfectly simple," the bishop went on. "Move my meeting ahead to seven o'clock. It will last only forty-five minutes. Then clear the hut, re-arrange the benches and bring on your musical comedy star!"

"Do you mean it?" they gasped.

"Why, of course!"

And that is exactly what they did. At 7:45 o'clock the bishop closed his meeting and at 8:15 o'clock the actress began her show, from the same stage.

There was no pretense about it—no attempt to get an audience for a religious meeting by announcing a vaudeville show. Each gathering was announced for exactly what it was. And at both gatherings the hut was packed!

The American soldier needs diversion and entertainment as well as he needs religion. He gets both at his hut—each one in its place, each one clearly defined, honestly labelled, sincerely offered.

This United War Work Campaign is for funds to carry clean, wholesome amusement to the soldiers as much as to provide them with the athletic, educational, religious and social background of home. It is to round out the lives of the men whose existence in a foreign country would become narrow and monotonous.

Give—to let the soldiers have a few of the good things you have every day.
